DETAILED ACTION

This application is a continuation of U.S. Application Serial Number 09/277,575, which claims the benefit of the filing date of provisional applications 60/082,250, 60/101,580 and 60/094,519.

Claims 1-142 have been canceled.

Claims 143-147 were previously added, are currently pending and are the subject of examination in the present Office Action.

In view of Applicant's response filed August 24, 2006 no outstanding ground of rejection is maintained. The following represents a new ground of rejection and necessitates that the instant Office Action be made NON-FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 143-147 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter that was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. This is a NEW MATTER rejection.

Applicant has submitted new claims 143-147 to provoke interference proceedings with U.S. Patent No. 6,416,958. Applicant has pointed out several passages from the specification which allegedly provide support for the claimed invention, showing where each limitation is supported in the specification. While each of the individual phrases or limitations recited in the claims may indeed be supported by the asserted passages, the claims as a whole are put together in a piecemeal fashion from various portions of the specification in order to match the claimed invention of the '958 patent. However, when the instant claims are looked at in their totality, and in particular base claim 143, the claims do not enjoy written descriptive support in the specification or claims as originally filed. The claims as presented are a patchwork of phrases which have been drawn from various passages in the specification, but these passages are never found in a single cohesive concept. Applicant is reminded that obviousness is not the standard for the addition new limitations to the disclosure as filed. Entitlement to a filing date does not extend to subject matter which is not disclosed, but would be obvious over what is expressly disclosed. Lockwood v. American Airlines Inc., 41 USPQ2d 1961 (Fed. Cir. 1977). In the instant case, the claimed embodiment of claim 143 may be obvious when individual passages from the specification are brought together, but the claim as a single concept is not supported by the specification or claims as originally filed. Accordingly, the claims do not have written descriptive support in the specification or claims as originally filed and constitute new matter.

Conclusion

3. No claim is allowed.
